Prologue

You may not remember, but, last September I wrote an article for the Sandspur about my hopes and expectations for a decent yearbook. It did not seem right to me that, so many ideas, episodes and encounters have been crammed into these four years and we had not yet found a dependable way to capture some of it on paper. We can not afford to forget our time at Rollins --they were far too expensive.

For years and years, Rollins' students have produced the Tomokan as a yearbook satisfactory for stirring up a few fond memories here and there. That's not good enough for me, though. In twenty years I want to walk into my ah, study (yeh, study) and reach for the 1990-91 Tomokan and by looking through the pages BE back at Rollins. I'm not going to look at the picture and say, "Gee, we had some nice tennis courts." I want to see the sweat drip from Bill Le Blanc's brow and know how hard the tennis team worked or glance at a shot of Casino Night and practically be able to smell the stale beer on the Student Center floor and recall how at least ten people wiped out slipping on the indoor puddles. We don't just go to Rollins, we experience it. Hopefully this will be a yearbook that will trigger our mental VCRs into play so that in twenty years we'll be able to "experience" it again. It is perhaps the most time consuming challenge I've ever taken on, but for you . . . it was worth it.

There is no place else quite like Rollins College. Where else do they have Fox Day? Where else can you design your own major? Where else is diversity not just tolerated, but celebrated? Where else are the classes so small that each professor in your major not only knows your name, but also your extracirrrricular activites, your hometown, etc.? Where else are there programs like SKY, RLC, and the Wellness Floor in Elizabeth? What other "country clubs" require that its members average over an 1150 SAT? Where else do you find such a beautiful campus?

No place else but Rollins.

Years from now we will probably forget the impact of the changes we made at Rollins: the debates we had on the housing issue, the successful revival of the Sandspur, the creation of Rollins College Productions, the many petitions we signed to improved Mariott's food, and the list goes on. We each played our part in molding this institution into what we sought for most in a college. We each would like to believe that in some way, no matter how small, we were able to leave our mark here.

Chances are, though, Rollins changed us a lot more than we changed it. And the fact is that life will go on here even after the Class of 1991 is gone. It is a sad, but true reality. After all, weren't we the biggest and the brightest? Personally, I think they should close the place down.

A nighttime photograph of a large, multi-story building, likely a college hall, illuminated by warm lights. The building is reflected in a body of water in the foreground. The sky is dark blue, and there are silhouettes of trees and a distant tower. The overall mood is serene and elegant.

President of the College

during the latter months of 1883 was a college in Florida."

Rollins was among the first American colleges to admit both women and men, and the first two Rollins graduates were women. Indeed, in 1890 when Clara Louise Guild received the first Bachelor's degree granted by Rollins, she was receiving the first degree granted to a woman in the state of Florida. Guild later founded the Rollins Alumni Association and became its first president.

Two of the first five Rollins professors were women, and in 191 the trustees elected the first woman, Edna Giles Fuller, to the board. Fuller later became Florida's first woman legislator and was at the forefront of the struggle for women's suffrage and better race relations.

In 1989, Betty Duda, who presides today, became the first woman elected to chair the Rollins Board of Trustees.

And on the buildings and rooms in which we conduct our work we find the names of many women who supported this college, from Frances Knowles Warren to Harriet Cornell.

These foresighted and persistent women and men fashioned the admirable college we celebrate today. But as we muster the courage to meet the challenge of the next millennium, our view of the College must change. Instead of characterizing ourselves as a New England college which happens to be situated in Florida, we will proudly portray Rollins as a Florida college with a nations constituency and a global perspective . . .

Today, Florida has become one of the most influential American incubators of new populations, new businesses, and new ideas. Rollins is fortunate to be housed in communities with the distinctiveness of Winter Park and the dynamism of greater Orlando . . .

Now ranked among the top colleges in the South, with a nationally competitive undergraduate arts and sciences program, Rollins also boasts a noted graduate management school, graduate programs in education and counseling, a unique liberal arts curriculum for nontraditional students, and a satellite campus in Brevard County . . .

Last September, shortly after I arrived at Rollins, I appointed six task forces to consider our future and to assure that Rollins

April is an auspicious time in the history of Rollins. Imagine, if you will, a meeting of the Florida Congregational Association, April 14, 1885, 106 years ago tomorrow.

This meeting is to select the location for Florida's first college, and nervous representatives from six competing communities have brought their offers. Frederick Lyman, real estate developer, is there on behalf of Winter Park, a frontier town of just 130 families.

Lyman startles the group by announcing a pledge from Winter Park of financial support and property more than three times greater than that of any other Florida community.

On April 15th, skeptical association leaders travel by mule wagon from the meeting in Mt. Dora to inspect the property offered for the college. They have been warned by jealous competitors that Winter Park is under water most of the year, but once here are enchanted by this beautiful site overlooking Lake Virginia. On April 17th they select Winter Park as the location for Florida's first college. . . .

Our founders designed an institution of the highest quality: the admissions standards and curriculum in the early years were no different from those at the New England colleges on which they were modeled. But it was not until the dream of excellence we coupled with the daring innovation that Rollins gained the national recognition it so fervently desired. . . .

In this unlikely southern outpost, Hamilton Holt and his faculty were among the first in the nation to develop a student-centered curriculum based on John Dewey's progressive education principles. This golden era at Rollins left a powerful legacy of excellence, innovation, and community.

My three predecessors, President Hugh McKean, Jack Critchfield, and Thaddeus Seymour, each in his own way and appropriate to his own time, pursued excellence, encouraged innovation, and built community. Under their stewardship Rollins College flourished. I am more grateful than I can say for their friendship, and for their presence here beside me today.

That I stand before you as president is testament to the courage and vision of the trustees and faculty who recognized that contemporary presidents may embody characteristics and biographies different from those of their predecessors.

Women leaders are not new to Rollins. On the contrary, women have played a crucial role in the history of the College.

Lucy Cross, educated at Oberlin and principal of a school in Daytona Beach, was the driving force behind the founding of Rollins College. Cross later said, "Vocally I cannot sing, but the song in my soul is as excellent, well-governed, innovative, and communal a place as can be conceived. These task forces have enlisted the participation of trustees, faculty, administrators for the future with great passion and wisdom. . .

The three values nourished by our history and cherished by this culture—excellence, innovation, and community—find embodiment in the work of the planning committees.

First, and fundamentally, we value excellence. . . .

We are committed to preserving and fortifying the historical liberal arts focus of the college and to that end we will continue to strengthen the arts and sciences disciplines. . . . We will build on the acknowledged quality of the Roy E. Crummer Graduate School of Business, increasing the number of full-time M.B.A. students and expanding executive education.

Excellence will elude us unless we demand from our students nothing less than the highest level of performance of which they are capable; hire and retain only those professors, staff members, and administrators who embody the qualities we treasure; and ensure a rich, coherent, and balanced curriculum.

Our second value is innovation, one of the wellsprings of excellence. Not all innovations are successful or worthy, but professors and students need the freedom and encouragement to experiment. . . .

We are proud of the important pedagogical and scholarly contribution to education made by Rollins professors. . . . In my talks with community leaders and educators, I find that Rollins is known for its distinctive programs in the performing arts, Latin American affairs, environmental studies, Australian studies, classics, and values education. We shall continue to nourish the development of innovative, interdisciplinary, and collaborative ventures. . . .

Our third profoundly held value is that of community—a value deceptively simple in concept but elusive in execution. Rollins is noted for its friendly campus and, in the words of George Cornell, benefactor, friend, and graduate of the class of 1935, its “homelike atmosphere,” but there is here a yearning for a greater spirit in the community. . . .

Friendship communities are based on relationships of equality and reciprocity, justice and fair play, tolerance and mutual respect. Communities are not without conflict, but conflict can be managed creatively and is an important part of the education we provide. I ask my Rollins friends to help me build a network of relationships that will begin to satisfy our hunger for community.

-Let us nourish intellectual community, based on the fundamental premise that higher education is about a love of learning and intellectual adventure, of shared curiosity, of the lively exchange and confrontation of ideas.

-Let us fashion an integrated all-college community without relinquishing the uniqueness and the pursuit of excellence within each of our units.

-Let us create and integrate living and learning community for our students. Part of the progressive education legacy at Rollins is our focus on the whole person with emphasis on athletic, cultural, spiritual, social, and citizenship development as well as intellectual growth.

-Let us forge a greater partnership with our external communities. Already we are working with schools to improve the quality of education, and with civic, planning, cultural, and commercial boards to improve the quality of life and the competitiveness of business. . . .

-Let us also embrace the global community as context and content for our undergraduate and graduate programs. We are now inextricably bound to Japan, Poland, Nigeria, and the rest of the world through commerce, tourism, ecology, and family ties, as well as by disease and war. These connections will find expression through our discourse, curriculum, activities, and relationships, and will enhance rather than detract from work in the traditional disciplines.

Spinning these webs of connectedness with filament that is both strong and distinctive, will test us. Our quest for excellence, innovation, and community will demand extraordinary courage.

At a time when institutions of higher education compete for every student and professor, we must ensure that our drawing power has never been better, and that people will be attracted to Rollins not simply for the climate nor for the beauty of the campus, but for the excellence of our learning, our programs, and our people. We must assure that they will find here a dynamic spirit of adventure, and a community of ideas and values that is too powerful to resist.

As I talk with the seniors these days, they report both elation and apprehension at being thrust into independence. Many wish they could remain just a little longer in the Rollins cocoon.

Nineteen ninety-one graduates will never forget that their final year of college was framed by war and uncertainty. Although they celebrate the heroism of our military men and women in the Persian Gulf, they realize that world leaders have achieved no permanent resolution for the intractable problems that led to the conflict.

Our graduates will craft their lives within an uncertain global environment. They face the specter of new wars, insurrections, and terrorism along with the uncertainties of international recessions, and political and economic realignment. They will confront ethical dilemmas in science and technology, ecological disasters, increasing immigrant and aging populations and rapidly changing work places. The modern plagues, AIDS, will haunt them. . . .

We are committed to producing graduates who will take the responsibilities of citizenship and service seriously, who will have a global perspective on local and national issues, who will value and respect peoples from different cultures, religions, racial and ethnic groups, who will consider work a contribution to society as well as to their own lives, who will understand and cherish democracy and defend the freedoms guaranteed by the Constitution and the Bill of Rights, who are exemplars of ethical behavior, and who engage in a life pursuit of learning. . . .

The goals I set forth today constitute a bold agenda. Endowed with a superb faculty, dedicated staff, enthusiastic students and alumni. Rollins lacks only the financial resources to become one of the top-ranked colleges in America. We will not permit our ambitions to be thwarted by our scant treasury to support the flourishing of excellent, innovation, and community. . . .

Let me conclude by saying that I accept the challenge before me with great pride and humility. I shall seek the courage to lead boldly and wisely: to listen well to the heartbeat of the College and to nourish its values and its dreams: to design a college for tomorrow, anchored firmly in the proud traditions of the past: and to enlist old friends and new in service of our mission.

Fiat Lux

Dear Rollins, foster mother of our youth
And mentor of our slow maturity,
We thank thee for the certainty that truth
May still be sought and that security
Of soul may yet be found if we but seek
Together, in a fellowship of mind,
And strive to let our deepest wisdom speak
To free us from the slavery of the blind.
O, Fiat Lux, let there be light indeed
So Truth and Beauty may ally with Good
To banish ignorance and odious greed:
O, teach us how to flourish as we should.
A Virtuous and Useful life we owe
Our Alma Mater dear, before we go.

"President Bornstein, the faculty is assembled. . ."

I was asked to present some of my visions(hallucinations?!) of Rollins' future. I thought the best way to do this was in a list of more-or-less specific proposals. I think they are feasible. However, only a few are possible if Rollins' endowment remains as small as it is-may it grow! Please excuse my English; I never made it to the Writing Center before the Tomokan deadline.

Participation of Students AND Faculty on the Curriculum and Reforms

The curriculum ought to be continuously revised by committees of faculty, students, and administrators. The key goal is for the process to be very public. Students should be help create and re-create the curriculum while sharing in the actual decision-making.

Grading: More Options for Teachers and Students

This new feature would allow faculty to offer certain courses which have a simplified grade structure: for example, an Excellence-Pass-Unsatisfactory system with faculty writing an essay-evaluation on the student's progress, efforts, and performance. A more flexible system would let Rollins' faculty demand more of students academically, while making the learning process less stressful and more tailored to individual learning styles.

Housing: ALL Students in Democratically Governed "Houses"

My proposal is for ALL students to become affiliated with a "residential house." I believe this new method would retain the positive aspects of the current fraternity/sorority/interest system but would add some ADDITIONAL BENEFITS. These changes would create a system which would (a) include ALL students; (b) be VOLUNTARY-every student can choose to become active in his/her House government; (c) promote more DIVERSITY.

More Student and Faculty Representation from ALL Parts of American Society

On the faculty, I feel we need more women and more people of color. i would like to see a student body and a faculty which approximates the demographics of our diverse American population. My sense(after 7 years here) is that Rollins has changed. Different viewpoints and experiences enrich classrooms and other activities. Imagine a couple of friendly, peace-loving, tolerantly Islamic, and democratic Iraqi students living on your floor of the dorm.

International Living and Study Experience for ALL Rollins Students

I'd like to see Rollins try to create the arrangements necessary for every student here to spend at least a winter term abroad in a foreign country.

Expansion of Special Courses and Programs Putting Students and Faculty Together in Non-traditional Teaching-Learning Relationships

I am very impressed with the Residential Learning Community. I believe that very small seminars are extremely effective environments. I would also like to see more experimentation in "cooperative learning" in which students help teach each other material. This methodology is more "real-life".

More Time for Faculty Research and Joint Faculty-student Research Projects

One of the deficiences at Rollins is that research is extremely difficult to complete. A solution could be for some faculty to offer research courses combining theory and applied research.

I am also pretty sure that I forgot something important that I wanted to say.

Rollins is ranked in the Top 20 in nearly every sport, won the Sunshine State Conference championship in men's basketball and tennis, finished third at the collegiate national waterski championships, won the regional championship in sailing and will challenge for national titles in men's tennis and men's and women's golf in the Spring.

When I see athletes like David Wolf, a sophomore from Cincinnati on the men's basketball team, outside my office shooting baskets every day, then going to practice and still having enough energy left to maintain a 3.8 grade point average, it makes me proud to be on the Rollins team. My dream is that one day, the Rollins community will recognize the gigantic amount of time that student-athletes spend perfecting their athletic skills and balancing that ability with the dedication and discipline necessary to maintain some of the highest grade point averages at any private college in America.

Hey Kara!

How ya doin'? We're getting ready to go back to Sydney now we had absolutely the best time! I'm sorry about the deal with Doug - we'll talk more later. We took a helicopter ride over the reef that was so cool. I also went parasailing which I've wanted to do for ever! It was amazing too! I wish you were here with us - I miss you pictures

We saw fish like these → at the reef. We bought an underwater camera that we used there too (it's disposable!) I love you Kara!

Greetings I bid you from the halls of Psi,
 You will read many things that may catch your eye.
 It was a good year for the Brother s you see,
 Usually, we have our Christmas party for free.
 For the Yearbook this year some things will change,
 In less than one sentence we'll prove we're deranged.
 So onward we go, and one thing to remember,
 We are not arrogant, we are just better.

Meat- Best body on campus. Max- "I'm better looking now than I've ever been." Hassold- Kim left and Bill arrived. Savage- Still screwing us. Schmarty- "What! The Rollins Outdoor Club is an active school organization whose purpose is to broaden ecological and community awareness among Rollins students, faculty and staff.

Our group's goal is to increase awareness of the environment and our impact on the environment. Our members learn and fine-tune outdoor skills and become more aware of their natural surroundings. R.O.C. enhances student's social, intellectual and personal growth by bringing together people with different values, interests and ideas under a common pursuit. Lyman Lodge, the R.O.C house, is a central place where the organization's activities may be discussed, developed, and carried out. The R.O.C. house serves as a symbol for the Rollins community for activity in and concern for the environment.

We believe that our goals are reached by sponsoring a variety of activities including cleanups of Florida beaches, rivers and parks. We also sponsor educational lectures, films, and courses which we feel to be of importance during outdoor activity. We especially enjoy planning trips of all sorts including camping, white water rafting, scuba diving, canoeing, biking, hiking, rock climbing, snow skiing, surfing, sky diving, and many others. Through these excursions into the outdoors, we hope to promote appreciation for the outdoors while establishing a relaxed atmosphere within which people can learn about themselves and others.

R.O.C.'s all-campus trips promote individual respect and self esteem by providing the challenge of the outdoors, thereby bringing out people's strengths and weaknesses. R.O.C. tries to help people realize this so that they can accept and respect themselves and others for what they have to offer.

Pinehurst is a community that promotes that awareness and tolerance of the many different social and political views on campus. Through its activities and the examples set by its members, Pinehurst seeks to break down social, cultural and political barriers and bring about an understanding of diverse points of view. The group sponsors programs on topics that are not normally covered in the classroom as well as social events such as their annual party, "The Mighty Pinecone". Some of the programs and events presented by Pinehurst during the 1990-91 academics year include a luncheon with the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity in honor of our housekeeper, Loretta, an open discussion of the Liberation political party, a new faculty and staff reception, a dessert social with the Chi Omega sorority, showings of various multicultural films including "Cyrrano de Bergerac" and "Long Time Companion", and international poetry reading, a discussion of life in a community, an open forum about Free Speech and Human Rights, a letter-writing sessions to the troops in the Middle East, and many others.

The living community of ISO encourages constant reflection and acceptance of cultural diversity. We sponsor many dinners, parties and events at which American students may learn and understand more about their international classmates.

Through cultural and social activities the Rollins community is enriched by these broadened perspectives. The International Student Organization opens its doors to any member of the Rollins community with an interest in foreign language, politics, business, or just plain curiosity. Besides building a common bond for the many international students at Rollins, our purpose is bridge the gap of misunderstandings which often accompany cultural differences.

It sucks to be single.

Why hasn't he called?

She's a bitch!

He sent me flowers.

She's hot!

It lasted a week.

This is really it.

Hooked-up, Scammed

Sponge Awards

I'll pick you up at 8:00.

My roommate will be back.

I like you a lot.

Let's double date.

Let's not.

Where can I meet you later?

I don't like him for his money.

Of course she has a personality.

I'm not ready for committment.

Should we just be friends?

No.

What is your last name?

I'm broke.

Would you like to come over?

Let's just rent a movie.

I love you.

You know they are seniors if . . .

You know he's a freshman when he spends his Thursday nights watching an RCP movie at the Student Center.

You know he's a senior when he spends his Thursday nights ordering shots at Harpers.

You know she's a freshman if she wants to live in a sorority house.

You know she is a senior if it seems like she lives in a fraternity house.

You know he's a freshman if he buys his book brand new from the Bookstore.

You know he's a senior if he buys his book from a friend who bought it last year from a friend who bought it last year from a friend who . . .

You know he's a freshman if he still gets letters from home.

You know he's a senior if the only "letters" he gets are credit card bills.

You know she is a freshman if she spends hours laying out everyday.

You know she's a senior if she has skin cancer.

You know he's a freshman if he develops an attitude after January Rush.

You know he's a senior if he's had an attitude all year.

You know she's a freshman if she eats every meal in Beans each day.

You know she's a senior if Evelyn has forgotten her name.

You know he's a freshman if he doesn't have a major.

You know he's a senior if he doesn't have a job.

The Barnum and Rollins Circus

On an unsuspecting Wednesday night during Winter Term, the circus came to town.

Thursday morning the campus bustled with excitement of the one-ring show. The turn out on Mills was impressive, in the tradition of all Rollins events.

Not.

Our Page in History

January 16, 1991-7:00p.m.-the approximate time the United States and the Iraqi nation went to war; Operation Desert Shield turned into a Desert Storm. Do you remember what you were doing at that exact moment? Will the memory be forever etched in your mind so that years from now when your children and grandchildren ask you what your precise actions were, you'll be able to answer with alacrity and clear recollection? Will you sound like your parents and grandparents when they recall their actions when President John F. Kennedy informed the nation of his ultimatum to Premier Krushchev during the Cuban Missile Crisis, or when Pearl Harbor was bombed in 1941?

The war with Iraq seemed improbable, as few people really expected Saddam Hussein to stay in Kuwait, but as the conflict began a shadow of the activism so prevalent during the 1960's cast itself upon the nation. The U. S. turned on its televisions to view the hostilities and the general sense of initial foreboding dissipated slightly as the Allied air forces pounded Iraq with heavy bombing. The general mood of the nation was at first confident but in the face of Husseins' ruthless tactics and as we lose more of our family members to the war, how long will our confidence remain in tact?

President George Bush and his top military advisors have quietly warned us that the war will take time and that the U.S. should not expect an easy victory. They have been quick to state, however, that this war will not be "another Vietnam".

College campuses have been nationally recognized as centers of mass protest, and some Rollins students and organizations answered the call to either protest or support the war effort. These students exercised their right to speak their minds thereby actively taking part in a soon-to-be-subject of history, instead of watching quietly from the sidelines. Although national protests have not been nearly as massive or violent as those of the Vietnam era, perhaps they will become so if the war in the Gulf becomes long and bloody. What role will Rollins students play in this piece of American History? Whatever the case may be, let us hope history has taught us at least two lessons: to remember the lives that have been lost in this conflict; and to support our men and women fighting in the Gulf regardless of how we stand on the issues of war.

Colophon

Volume 64 of Rollins College's TOMOKAN yearbook was published by Herff Jones in Montgomery, Alabama. Class portraits were taken by Larry S. Grimando of Olin Mills, Kissimmee, FL.

The 1991 TOMOKAN was designed using "Sampler 4," a Pagemaker program designed for Macintosh computers by Herff Jones. The book features 64 pages of vibrant color and 224 pages of black and white for a grand total of 288 pages! We are not sure what kind of paper each section was printed on, nor do we really care.

The 1,400 copies of this book will begin official circulation in September, 1991.

Editor's Note

We, the editors, apologize for any errors which may have incurred during the process of production. We made a concerted effort to correctly include every club, every activity and every student at Rollins. However, as we quickly learned, getting great pictures of each of you was easier said than done. We welcome all criticism and encourage all currently enrolled critics to correct the problems by joining next year's TOMOKAN staff.

All correspondence should be sent to : The Tomokan, Campus Box 2754, Rollins College, Winter Park, Florida, 32789.

The Ladies of Third Floor Elizabeth

LEIGH, KARI, & MORGEN

"Wild women do . . .and they don't regret it."

X O X X Ω

Remember "Days" at Jolly Rolly Colly when Jen insisted butt cuts were in, Ruthie got licked, Sarah's ear got slobbered on, Gretchen laughed and puked (on Gameboy), and we all became sisters for life: XΩ. We will never forget those Sunday night movies, 4-5-6, RESPECT, Little House, Lawrence Weiner, the Jeepster, the loft, Upsi, evil looks, TTTTTTin, sellouts, boomtown, BEN-JAM-IN, getting the car seat wet, picking through the garbage, who? what? when?, Igor (it sounds different in Spanish), Sarah's middle names, Camel lights, protesting the "look", how many times those shorts were worn, where Gretchen slept, sharks, and last, but not least, America. We were all such "re's" and Jen was a dork. Bon Voyage Jen; Ruthie we salute you!! The third floor will never be the same, but room 336 lives on!

"I don't shut up, I grow up, and when I look at you I throw up! Ha Ha Ha UGH!!!" (SWJR)

"I never have, I never will!" (we'll see)

So many times were shared together, so many things were said (by so many people) and we had so many laughs that we would just like to say one more thing. . .

"Would you like some nachos with that Velveeta?" (stoney times)

"I forgot to tell you. . .I can't move." (ditto)

"Wait, what fraternity is he in? Oh, I don't know him." (everyday)

"Yeah, I've kissed him." (liar)

"I ALWAYS swallow" (Jr.)

"I'll be back in 5 minutes" (alone?)

"gretchen, Gretchen, GRETCHen, GRETCHEN, GRETCHEN!!!"

(deaf)

"Honor Bright Snake Bite" (Jen, this is college)

"Work it baby, work it, own it!"(pimp)

"It's my party and I'll cry if I want to!" (you would CRY too!!)

Paris, Texas, Winter Park, we'll be sure to make our mark! (JR, RT, SW, GF)
